Summary

Microfic from Ruri's POV. I practice my moves with my katana and my psychic powers.

- A translation of Pratique by MiaQc

I practice my moves with my katana and my psychic powers before taking a break with two origini. My friend Erika comes to see me, and we talk about many things. About school, about boys, about the incident with the Initial. I can't believe that an organization tried to clone me and then get my psychic powers. Luckily I defeated the clone, the Initial, and Erika blew up the lab. Erika tells me that she is always willing to help me if the world still needs saving. After all, the Initial could have threatened the world. I thank my friend and go back to training.
